

LINDSAY LOHAN: BACK IN THE HOSPITAL!

Eva Longoria takes a break from filming a Pepsi commercial to enjoy a chocolate-chip cookie!

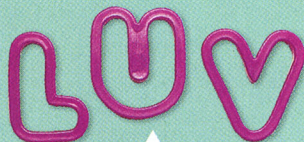

Q: I'd like to make cute cookies for Valentine's Day. Where can I get cool cutters?

Sur La Table makes a four-piece set that lets you say it with cookies, and Bed Bath & Beyond sells a bin filled with 100 cutters for every holiday — for only $10! But try getting creative and designing your own cutters, says style expert Danna Weiss. It's easy! Layer together three or four sheets of tinfoil and fold them lengthwise about six times to create a long strip that's 1-inch wide. Bend it into whatever love-themed shape you want. Press it into dough, and voilà! A personal touch is always a hit, says Weiss. "People can't help but try homemade cookies."

This set is made of tin-plated steel, so the cutters are really sturdy
