

Life & Style WEEKLY

$1.99

STYLEWEEK

Finally! JEANS THAT FLATTER ANY BEHIND

Celebs are snapping up hot-asset enhancing jeans!

GWEN LOOKS LEAN

The curved lines of Gwen Stefani's Stella McCartney jeans "accentuate the butt and elongate the body," says celeb stylist Danna Weiss.

ACCENTUATE A ROUND BUTT

The pocket-free style streamlines the back, while the slim cut hugs curves to show off the tush
Hydraulic, $40, Charlotte Russe

GIVE CURVES TO A SMALL BUTT

The embroidered design on the back pockets creates the illusion of curves on boyish figures
American Rag Cie, $60, Macy's

PUMP UP A FLAT BUTT

Large pockets with fold-over flaps boost flat behinds without adding extra bulk
Anoname, $79, anoname.com for stores

ADD LIFT TO A SAGGY BUTT

U-shaped stitching across the back pockets of these boot-cut stretch jeans lifts flat bottoms
Citizens of Humanity, $189, revolveclothing.com

SLIM AND FLATTER A CURVY BUTT

The dark wash and back crease slenderize, and crystal details on each pocket draw attention to the booty
7 for All Mankind, $244, Nordstrom

Celebs bring back the middle part!

Whether stars have curls, waves or super-straight locks, they can't get enough of center parts. "Stars have been hiding behind side parts and long bangs for the past few years," says celeb stylist Tippi Shorter. "This is a departure, and it works for all hair types."

STRAIGHT HAIR

A center part makes Jennifer Aniston's super-long straight layers disappear and look more sophisticated. The middle part also elongates her square face, so the jaw looks softer and less pronounced.

CURLY HAIR

Katharine McPhee's round face appears slimmer when her big, bouncy curls are parted in the middle. A dime-size amount of serum keeps a part flyaway-free.

WAVY HAIR

Even long layered bangs like Carmen Electra's can be parted straight down the center! Bonus: They open up her heart-shaped face and draw attention to her big blue eyes and high cheekbones.

CLOCKWISE FROM LEFT: SNAP PIX; JOHN SCULLI/WIREIMAGE; NOAH CALHOUN/STARTRAKS; HAZDEN/REX